"HALF A NEGRO" TO CHICAGO

Republicans Turn Down George Gentry at State Convention, Tho' Davison Makes a Hard Fight.

The republicans of Kentucky in convention at Louisville, sat down hard upon poor old George W. Gentry, the local negro, who has been fighting the battles of that party for over 40 years. Although the convention sent eight delegates-at-large to the national convention, they only gave one place to a negro, and Phil Brown, a negro editor of Hopkinsville got that, giving Kentucky as a number of negro delegates termed it, "half a negro" at the national convention. The "Big Eight" chosen were Ed Morrow, Marshall Bullitt, Judge E. C. O'Rear, A. E. Willson, Richard P. Ernst, and Congressman Caleb Powers, and Phil Brown, the negro.

The feature of the convention from a local standpoint, was the hard fight made for a full negro representation, or two delegates, by Dr. Robert L. Davison, chairman of the Lincoln County Republican Committee. By a vote of 1,987 1-2 to 322 1-2, the convention, however, voted down all efforts to put Gentry on the delegation. The convention witnessed some warm times. The Courier-Journal said the following of the matter.

Immediately following the reading of the report of the Resolutions Committee, recommending that seven white men and only one negro be sent as delegates at large to the national convention, pandemonium broke loose among the negro delegates, who insisted above the hubbub that six white men and two negroes be named. The fight to that end was started by J. E. Wood, a negro delegate from Danville, who moved that George W. Gentry, colored, of Stanford, recommended by the Resolutions Committee, in its report, for indorsement for the post of assistant doorkeeper at the national convention, be substituted for one of the seven white men recommended for committeeman from the state at large. The motion was quickly seconded by other negro delegates, and soon the word went out that if the negroes were not allowed to have their way they would walk out of the convention, costing the Republicans 85,000 votes in the coming November election.

Realizing the gravity of the situation, Edwin P. Morrow, at this point, in a dramatic speech, offered himself as a sacrifice. Throwing off the restraining arms of Maurice Galvin, of Covington; Caleb Powers and others, Mr. Morrow sprang to the platform and asked the convention to name the negro Gentry in his place. A storm of applause, dominated by a roar of "noes," greeted Mr. Morrow's suggestion. The delegates would not let the suggestion come to a vote.

Dr. Robert L. Davison, of Stanford, advocating adoption of Wood's motion, said that were 85,000 loyal republican negroes in Kentucky and that unless they were given fair representation in the selection of delegates from the state at large they would be heard from in the coming election.

Such turmoil prevailed at this point in the proceedings that it became necessary for the chairman to name three persons as sergeants-at-arms to restore order.

Thurman Dixon, who was temporary chairman had barely finished his keynote speech when Dr. Robert L. Davison, of Lincoln county, inaugurated a ruckus over the number of negro delegates to be sent from the State at large to the national convention.

"I rise to a question of personal privilege and information, Mr. Chairman," he said, as he made his way to the front of the rostrum and addressed the delegates, rather than the chairman. "I want to know what has been done for the colored republicans of Kentucky. I ask whether this convention is going to send two negro delegates to Chicago out of the eight, or only one. Heretofore one negro has always been sent out of four, and now if we are going to send eight then in justice to the colored man we should send two negroes with half a vote each, so the colored man will have one full vote as he always has had."

Dr. Davison's remarks threw the convention into a mild sort of uproar. He had not finished his first sentence when hisses and cries of "sit down" and "throw him out" were heard. A score or more of delegates from all parts of the hall loudly shouted points of order which nobody could understand. All the while a negro delegate, immediately in front of the rostrum, looked straight into Chairman Dixon's face and spoke vehemently in favor of two negro delegates.

Chairman Dixon tried to explain to Davison, that he was out of order, but the latter stamped his foot, shook his fist and sat down on the chairman's desk smiling. By this time half a dozen men on or near the platform were speaking. Secretary Alvis S. Bennett walked over to Davison and threw his arms around his shoulders, and the display of affection brought another smile from Davison, but no indication of a willingness to move.

And then Mr. Davison, who never wearied of well doing, but kept a seat within six feet of Chairman Moss and waited for openings, went to the front of the rostrum for the sixth time and, with a sweeping wave of his right arm, attempted to influence the audience. He did. The delegates howled and the band played till he sat again on the chairman's table. But the convention voted him and Gentry down.

May Hold Negro Convention.

That the action of the republican convention in turning down Gentry and the negro delegates is bitterly resented by them, is shown by a story in the republican Lexington Leader published Thursday which says: A second State Republican convention, is to be called at the instigation of colored Republican leaders, may be a result of the dissatisfaction engendered among some of the colored delegates by the Louisville resolutions.

The colored Republican organization known as the Republican Pacific and Political League, will, it is understood, assume the direction of calling a second convention. George W. Gentry of Lincoln county, is president of the league; Dr. E. Underwood, of Frankfort, is Vice President, and J. E. Wood, of Danville, secretary; Ed Chennault and Ed Willis, of Lexington, are actively interested.

Chennault said that the colored delegates had no voice in the convention in many instances; that the chairman voted them in some cases and that others were counted after they had left the hall. "The honest white republicans will concede that they were entitled to one-fourth representation on the delegation. We were not consulted at all as to the one half vote proposition. The only Negro admitted to the party councils was Phil Brown, and we feel that he betrayed us."

"If it had not been for the colored Republicans, who sat still in the boat and voted under the Log Cabin label, there would be no Republican party in Kentucky today. The colored voter has been the solid basis of Republican success in this state, and now all he asks is that the party will not permit a handful of officeholders to take away what little he has been given of party honors and recognition."

You Can't Find Any Dandruff, and Hair Stops Coming Out

See Your Hair! Make It Thick, Wavy, Glossy and Beautiful At Once.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment. A 25-cent bottle will double the beauty of your hair.

STANFORD FAIR AUG. 23, 24, 25. The Harrodsburg Democrat, in mentioning the dates of the fairs of this section, says that the Stanford fair will be held the third week in August. This is a mistake. It is the fourth week, and the dates claimed are Aug. 23, 24 and 25.

AN IDEAL SPRING LAXATIVE.

YOUTHFUL, AMATEUR ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS PLAY HAVOC WITH THE LIGHTING CIRCUIT IN STANFORD

Several nights last week when current was turned on at the power house, reports came in from some parts of town of an unusual "jumping or jerking" of the lights, and try as hard as Supt. Frank Rout would, the trouble could not be located at the plant, where it was supposed, the trouble was to be found. A careful investigation was then made over the lines and it was discovered that Leonard Ball, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Ball, of Depot street, had rigged up a private electric plant of his own, for the purpose of doing some experimental work. The embryonic electrical engineer, had in some way obtained a lot of wire, and attached it to one of the main feed wires, on a pole near his father's store. He had then run the wire into the house, and at the time discovery was made, had it connected with the iron bed usually occupied by the cook. The precocious youngster said that he planned to give that estimable person a gentle shock, if his experiments worked successfully. Further investigation disclosed the fact that playmates of young Ball had rigged up similar experimental plants, one planning to light his father's barn with electricity, through his home-made outfit. Ball and the other youngsters involved, had worked out ingenious connections, but had overlooked the danger of being severely if not seriously shocked themselves by fooling with wires which become very "live" every afternoon when the "juice" is turned on at the power house. All were told of the great danger they had unconsciously courted and their electrical experiments were most seriously discouraged by their parents and others concerned. With the dismantling of the amateur plants, there has been no further trouble with lights and power over town.

FLORENCE HONORED AGAIN

As Member of Republican State Central Committee from 8th District

Eighth District republicans held an enthusiastic and interesting convention here Tuesday afternoon, and elected two delegates and two alternates to the national convention at Chicago, sending them without instructions in regard to presidential matters. George D. Florence, of Stanford, was re-elected as the Eighth's member of the State Central Committee, without opposition. In a spirited four-cornered race, E. P. Black, of Madison county and L. F. Petty, were chosen delegates to Chicago, with J. O. Russell, of Adair county and W. C. Cundiff, of Casey county as alternates. King Swope, of Boyle, was named for elector, with W. B. Saffell, colored, of Shelby county, as assistant. A motion recommending George W. Gentry, colored of this city, for a member of the delegation-at-large from Kentucky, was adopted before adjournment after considerable discussion.

Every county of the 11 in the district was represented when Chairman Florence, of the district committee, called the convention to order, in the courthouse at half past two o'clock. Circuit court had adjourned in deference to the occasion, and the courtroom was well filled with delegates and others. Judge Louis L. Walker, of Lancaster, who was the republican nominee for lieutenant governor last November, was placed in nomination for temporary chairman of the convention by Henly V. Bastin, of Garrard, and elected by acclamation. Judge Walker made a very appropriate and pointed talk to the convention upon assuming the chair, which was received with applause. Hon. J. W. Wall, who represents the counties of Casey and Russell in the legislature, was made secretary, and upon motion of L. F. Petty, of Shelbyville, the appointment of the usual committees was dispensed with, and the temporary organization made permanent.

The first business then taken up was the election of a State Central Committeeman, Chairman R. L. Davison, of the Lincoln county republican committee, placed the name of Hon. George D. Florence before the convention, and numerous seconds were had to the nomination of this prominent, popular and active young party leader. There were no other nominations and he was elected by acclamation.

Call for nomination of candidates for delegates was then made by Judge Walker. The name of E. P. Black, of Madison was placed before the convention by C. C. Wallace, of Richmond; that of J. L. Butler, of Boyle, was placed in nomination by Henly V. Bastin, of Garrard. W. B. Saffell, a colored leader, nominated Ludlow F. Petty, of Shelby, and C. A. Kenney, of Jessamine, was also placed before the convention. The vote stood: Petty 183; Black 103; Butler 67; Kenney 13. The vote for alternate was: W. C. Cundiff, of Casey 157; J. O. Russell, of Adair 123; Rev. J. E. Wood, colored, of Boyle, 70. King Swope, of Boyle, and W. B. Saffell, colored, of Shelby, were chosen elector and assistant for the district, by acclamation.

Upon motion of Dr. R. L. Davison, the convention voted to recommend to the state convention, the selection of George W. Gentry, of this city, for a delegate-at-large from Kentucky to the national convention. Dr. Davison paid to Gentry a high tribute as a leader of his race, who had been fighting the battles of republicanism for 40 years, and in every way fully worthy of the honor he asks at the hands of his party in the state. Rev. J. E. Wood, the colored leader of Danville, also made a strong speech advocating Gentry. The convention then adjourned.

General News Notes

Louisville has a mad dog scare. Mrs. Cerro Gordo Williams, is dead at Mt. Sterling.

W. A. Doty has been appointed Road Engineer for Garrard county. The big warehouse of the Farmers Tobacco Warehouse burned at Winchester, entailing a loss of $30,000. The House passed a bill to appropriate $5,000 annually for two years for the Illiteracy Commission.

A store at Glasgow owned by a cousin of W. J. Bryan, burned with a loss of $15,000. Gov. Stanley appointed Fred P. Frisbie police judge of Lancaster to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge J. B. Frather.

A 13-year-old boy saved the lives of his one, two and four-year-old brothers, when his parents' house burned at Whitesburg.

Ray Moss, of Montgomery county, sold a green five-galled saddle mare by McDonald Chief, to a southern party for $1,000.

Mrs. Eva Underwood, wife of a Pineville architect hanged herself in the asylum at Lexington, where she had been confined for acute melancholia.

BECKHAM FOR ECONOMY.

The Senate postoffice committee, of which Senator Beckham is a member, adopted the Good Roads bill as a substitute for the Shackelford House measure. Senator Beckham said his objection to the latter was the appropriation of a great sum at one time. The Senate bill would appropriate over a period of years. Kentucky would get under it $1,507,000 in five years, starting with $100,000 the first year and increasing proportionately annually.

WEATHER MARS LOT SALE

Big Crowd Was Present and Satisfactory Prices Were Realized

But for inclement weather, the big lot sale conducted here Wednesday afternoon by Walcott Bros., of Glasgow, would have been an unequalled success in every way. As it was, all of the property sold for satisfactory prices and the promoters of the sale did not lose anything on their venture.

Mrs. W. K. Warner had the honor of naming the new addition to Stanford—Embry Heights, that title being selected by the judges as the most appropriate one and Mrs. Warner thereby won the $5 offered to the lady submitting the name which should be chosen.

A tremendous crowd was present when the sale began, but rain which came up during the afternoon thinned the crowd down considerably and the lots in consequence sold much below what they might have brought under better weather conditions.

Some splendid building sites were opened up by this sale, affording opportunity for an expansion of the city in one of the few localities which are suitable for home building—along Lancaster avenue, almost out to the home place of the Embry family. The aggregate of the sales amounted to over $6,000, which was the amount paid by the Messrs. Walton to Embury Bros., for the 30 acres which were cut up into lots and small tracts, and put under the hammer. Auctioneer J. G. Gallagher, of Louisville, cried the sale, and gave splendid satisfaction, while the Danville band pleased everyone with its music. The sales made were as follows:

S. M. Saufley, one lot $250; E. C. Garman, one lot $230; R. M. Newland, two lots, $210 and $205; B. L. Fagaly one lot $201; J. M. Phillips, lots at $172.50, $167.50, $170, $60, $127.50, $127.50 $50, $38, $21, $21, $21, 13 lots at $39 and 12 at $44; a syndicate composed of K. S. Alcorn, J. W. Rochester and C. H. Foster bought six lots for $605 and several of the tracts as follows: 3.82 acres for $126; 10.95 acres for $115 and 4.3 acres for $115. W. M. Duncan two lots at $50 a lot; Harry Farmer one lot $120, Tom S. Farmer one lot $115.

The Messrs. Walton, who are experienced real estate men, conducted the sale in a manner pleasing and satisfactory to everyone and made friends of all with whom they came in contact.

JOHN MILLER LOSES CLAIM

An adverse report was sent to the House at Washington by the Committee on Claims in the case of Lieut. John P. Miller, of Lancaster, now on the United States warship North Dakota. Representative Harvey Helm sought to reimburse Lieut. Miller for passage of his father, John W. Miller, on a Government transport from Manila to Guam in 1913. The committee recommended that the claim be rejected by Congress.

WILL DISCUSS ROAD BONDS.

The Chamber of Commerce will meet Friday night at 7:30 o'clock in the directors' room of the Lincoln County National Bank. The Road Bond issue will be the principal topic of discussion. W. B. McKinney will open this discussion. Other matters of importance are to come before the Association. Every member is requested to be there on time. The Contest for the best advertisement of Stanford, to be printed on the back of envelopes will close Saturday night. The High School pupils are especially urged to enter this contest. The prize of $5.00 will be awarded as soon as the judges have examined the papers.

Jones & Cress bought in Rockcastle county last week two loads of cattle for shipment at about 7c. They sold to J. B. Foster 27 stock shoats at 7 1-4c.

OUT OF THE RACE.

Crab Orchard

Our graded school is progressing nicely. Our teachers are putting forth every effort for the uplifting and upbuilding of the bright minds entrusted to their care. And right here we will say we have never known brighter talent than the young people here possess. Among the recent improvements for the graded school are chairs for the chapel room; shades for all the class room windows; and quite a number of new books for the library. Much of the fund for these improvements was raised by the teachers and pupils by means of entertainments. Quite an interesting program was rendered by the pupils last Friday at the chapel hour in honor of Longfellow's birthday. If we had space, we would like to mention each pupil by name, as all acquitted themselves with distinction. On each Thursday morning hereafter will be held interesting exercises and the teachers would be much encouraged if parents, and those interested in education would attend. The prosperity and progress of every town depends largely upon its school.

Misses John Eva Hilton and Ellen Moore, two of the teachers, spent Saturday and Sunday at their homes in Stanford.

Mr. Walter Edmiston visited his aged father and his brother, Dr. Edmiston some weeks ago and is looking well. He has purchased a nice farm near Morehead, and will settle down to farm life. Having visited 27 states he finds none better than Old Kentucky.

Mrs. Agnes Herrin has had quite a siege with grip this winter, and has not entirely recovered from the effects as yet.

Mr. Leon DeBorde has been confined to his room with a severe attack of rheumatism, but we hope he will soon be out again.

Mrs. Henry Brooks and sister, Mrs. Masterson, of Lebanon, are visiting Mrs. Daisy Hunt for a few days.

Misses Cleve Brooks and Billy George Goldman were in Brodhead a day or two this week.

Dr. L. F. Jones has purchased a handsome two-passenger Ford car, and is learning to manage it well.

Mrs. Theo Elam wishes her friends to know she has been quite sick all winter and would like to hear from any of them.

Misses Cummins and Hurt are delivering some fine coal from their yards at the mill at such reasonable rates.

Mrs. M. E. Fish has been quite sick for a few days, but is some better at this writing.

Uncle John Edmiston continues to improve and can walk about some. Col. and Mrs. Guest, Dr. Doores and Mrs. Magee, Mrs. Egbert, Mr. Alfred Davis and Mrs. Frances Edmiston, Mr. Joe Pleasants and all of the older citizens of our city want their many friends at a distance to know they are getting along nicely.

Mrs. Tom Manuel, of the Cedar Creek section, visited her son, Mr. J. F. Manuel this week.

Mr. William McKinney, of Montgomery, Ala., is in our town for a short stay.

There have been several guests at our springs all winter, and accommodations will be finer next year for its guests than ever before in the history of this grand old summer resort.

What about our electric lights?

We wish everyone would attend the prayer meetings at the Baptist church on Wednesday night of each week. Only a little band in regular attendance and you are so badly needed, and there is such a grand work to be done.

SEWING CLUB ENTERTAINED.

The members of the Sewing Club were very delightfully entertained Wednesday afternoon by Miss Gertrude Wilkinson at her home on Lancaster street. An appetizing salad course was very beautifully served. The evening was both enjoyably and profitably spent and the members are under lasting obligations to Miss Wilkinson for her hospitality. Present were: Misses Kate Davis Raney, Lyles Cooper, Lottie Carson, Verna Rout, Anne Davis McRoberts, Mary Early, Josephine Brady, Lucy Lee Walton, and Mesdames Logan McCall and T. J. Hill.

Taylor House, of Garrard, sold to Sherley Hudson a pair of horse mules for $365.

Changeable Weather Brings Sickness

The changeable weather of March causes coughs, colds, croup and grip. There is no such thing as a "light cold"—none that a person can safely neglect. DISTRICT K. P.'s TO MEET HERE

Diadem Lodge To Be Hosts to Members of Ten Sister Lodges on Thursday, March 30

Diadem Lodge No. 81, Knights of Pythias, of Stanford, is to have the honor of entertaining the District Pythian convention this year. The date will be Thursday March 30, and already the local lodge is formulating plans to give the visiting brothers a hospitable welcome and reception. Hon. J. D. Dorman, of High Bridge, District Deputy, has notified the local lodge that the meeting will be held here on that date. The following lodges are expected to have representation here: Temple lodge, No. 17 of Burgin; Garrard lodge, No. 29 of Lancaster; Utopia lodge, No. 33 of Danville; Wilmore lodge No. 52, of Wilmore; Pilot lodge No. 78, of Ford; Jessamine lodge No. 103, of Nicholasville; Estill lodge No. 159, of Irvine; Madison lodge No. 160 of Valley View and Normal City lodge No. 162 of Richmond. Tentative plans are being made by Diadem lodge for a banquet or smoker in honor of the visiting Knights, after the formal sessions have been concluded. Several hundred prominent Pythians are expected to be present and the day will be made a memorable one for everyone.

THE HUNTER HOUSE SALE.

The public sale of the land and personal property of Hunter House held last Wednesday at his farm 3 miles west of Lancaster on the Danville road, drew a very large crowd, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather. Capt. Am Bourne, the Lancaster auctioneer, gave the following report of the sale, stating that he did not know when he had such a large attendance. Prices were satisfactory, the farm of 50 acres being knocked to Malcolm House of Lancaster, at $96.30 per acre; a 9-year-old work mare mule brought $68; a 6-year-old gentle, driving mare was bid in by Arch Stevens for $60; a couple of 3-year-old fillies were sold, one bringing $75, and the other $60; a brown mare was sold to James Wood Bourne, of Danville, for $150; a yearling horse mule went to Charles Rankin for $50; a Jersey cow was sold for $60; a red shorthorn cow to be fresh in March, was purchased by Johnson Speaks for $50; a Jersey heifer, fresh in May, was bought by Johnson Speaks for $35; a sow and pigs were knocked off to G. B. Swinebroad; two gilts were sold, one being purchased by S. D. Cochran for $15.25, and the gilt going for $14; 35 bushels of Irish potatoes were sold to various bidders in small quantities at 75 cents per bushel; 40 barrels of corn were reoffered and purchased by Hughes Brothers, of Lancaster at $3.95 per barrel; timothy hay met with ready demand, the buyer being J. Speaks who paid 90 cents per hundred for it; fodder was bought at 15 cents per shock; household and kitchen furniture found ready sale at good prices.

DANGERS OF DRAFT.

Drafts feel best when we are hot and perspiring, just when they are most dangerous and the result is Neuralgia, Stiff Neck, Sore Muscles or sometimes an attack of Rheumatism. In such cases apply Sloan's Liniment. It stimulates circulation to the sore and painful part. The blood flows freely and in a short time the stiffness and pain leaves. Those suffering from Neuralgia or Neuralgic Headache will find one or two applications of Sloan's Liniment will give grateful relief. The agonizing pain gives way to a tingling sensation of comfort and warmth and quiet rest and sleep is possible. Good for Neuritis too. Price 25c at your Druggist.

ENTERTAINED FOR SISTERS.

Mrs. W. K. Warner entertained in honor of her sisters, Mrs. Fred Neighbors, of Louisville and Mrs. Ewing Stults of Knoxville, Wednesday evening. A delightful salad course was served and the evening made a most enjoyable one. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pence, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hill, Jr., Miss Lyles Cooper, Miss Lucy Lee Walton, Miss Lottie Carson, Mrs. Sam Robinson, Miss Sue Taylor Engleman, Miss Elizabeth Givens, Mrs. Annie Engleman, Mrs. W. R. Todd, Mrs. W. B. FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble."

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught.

Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and all nervous symptoms.

Twelve Years Later.

Casavanti, the cadet, was a firm holder of the pregnancy of apparel. He believed in keeping up appearances. He even revealed in his appetite of the Beau Nash of the Tenderloin. His clothes were of the latest cut and from the folds of his novelty cravat always flashed a "shiner" of the first water. There was, accordingly, almost a note of condescension in his manner as he received "Slim"

Legato in his meretriciously sumptuous sitting room. For "Slim," whatever his aspirations in crookdom, was still a mere underling.

"Who sent this?" demanded Casavanti as he took a note from his visitor's hand.

"Legar," was the answer. The cadet puffed languidly at a cigarette as he opened the note and read it.

The girl spoke of what come to-night at twelve. You will find her a flower that is ripe for the picking. And once the flower gets in your hands I want it kept there—Jules.

Casavanti restored the letter to its envelope. Then he stood thoughtfully regarding his visitor.

"Did anyone see you come here?" he asked.

"Not that I was wise to," was Slim's prompt reply.

"Then see that you get as quietly away!"

Slim Legato, accordingly, kept a weather eye open as he emerged to the street. Nothing suspicious met his gaze. It was not until he had descended the steps and reached the curb that a closed limousine, running as quietly as a frozen river, flowed along the pavement little more than ten paces away from him. At the first corner it turned sharply and stopped, obstructing the crossing.

The debonair Slim drew up, blinking suspiciously at the mysterious vehicle. Then he blinked even harder, for from the open door window of the limousine a gloved hand had unmistakably beckoned to him. And the remarkable part of it all, to Slim, was the fact that the drawn car curtains concealed everything but that mysteriously beckoning hand.

Slim promptly decided to investigate. But he also decided to advance with caution. Before he could place a foot on the runningboard, however, and thrust a perky inquisitive head into the hooded gloom of the car, that car began to move forward again. Yet before it passed from his reach the gloved hand thrust into his own an envelope.

On this envelope was clearly inscribed:

"Dr. Ludwig Palidori, Care of Jules Legar," and beneath these words Slim's bewildered eyes made out the unmistakable emblem of a laughing mask. What it meant was more than he could tell.

So inscrutable did this mystery seem, in fact, that Slim, after one minute of deep thought, promptly yet delicately slipped the blade of his pen-knife along the gummed flap of the envelope and forced it open. On a single sheet of paper he found written the cryptic words:

"Remember the Hammer of God, which smites, and crushes whom it smites!"

Slim, the gay cat and gangster, puzzled much over this message as he restored it to its violated envelope and adroitly revealed the flap.

"Now, who tell's gettin' his little knocker out fr' the Doc?" demanded that bewildered worthy of himself as he made his guarded way back to the underworld rendezvous which was known to his confreres as the Owl's Nest.

The Owl's Nest proper was an unsavory cellar room in one of the most unsavory sections of the lower East side. Years before it had been a wine cellar, presided over by a Neapolitan of Mano Nero affiliations, until a federal shoo-fly, in search for "coiners," had been found stilettoed behind one of its casks of Marsala, whereupon the Neapolitan had vanished and in due time the Owl herself had taken possession of the quarters.

With the advent of Jules Legar, the mysterious center of a mysterious circle of evildoers about whom, she knew, it never paid to be too inquisitive, life had become easier for her. Her cellar, inconspicuous in a district so crowded with equally dubious warrens, had proved precisely the type of quarters the leader of the new circle was in need of. And as Legar himself stepped down into the cellar, advancing with his peculiarly padded tread as softly as an animal steals into its lair, the Owl remembered that the hour of her reward was not far distant. For she had proved a jealous guardian of the fair-haired girl whom Legar saw fit to keep hidden so long from the world.

It was plain to see that Legar was accepted as a leader by the half dozen dips and gangsters and moll-buzzers into whose midst he had so quietly slipped.

"Where's Legato?" he curtly asked as he glanced about the circle.

That question answered itself, for even as it was put Legato himself slipped down into the dim light of the Owl's cellar.

"What's this?" demanded Legar, as the new-comer, without speaking, handed the letter of mystery to his chief.

"That's what I want to find out," was Slim's retort. "A gink in a 'Fit' avenue go-cart hands me this and speeds off."

Legar tore open the envelope. His ferret eyes narrowed as he unfolded the sheet.

"The Hammer of God again!" he said with a sneer. But a troubled look crept into his face as he stood studying the message and the envelope in which that message had come. Then he laughed. But it was a laugh without mirth. "Palidori?" he muttered. "Why should I know anything about a man named Palidori?"

"Then we'll strike before the Hammer does!" he announced, with a gesture of impatience he commanded the Owl to take him to the girl, the hidden girl on whom still hinged his dreams of vengeance. "McTigue," he called back as he went, "get Tatano and the taxi and be ready."

Yet he showed no exultation as he followed the hobbling Owl along a darkened passageway and up a flight of wooden stairs leading to the floor above.

Bent over a table beside the barred window he saw a girl, a girl still in her teens, a girl with a look of inalienable innocence still in her mournful eyes. And Legar, as he crossed to the table, saw that she was good to gaze upon. Yet at the sight of him she shrank back, letting the locket which she had just tied about her neck fall from her trembling fingers.

"Don't cover that way!" commanded Legar. "I haven't come to beat you. I guess the Owl gave you enough of that."

"Then why are you here?" the questioning eyes seemed to ask him.

"I've come to tell you I think you've had about enough of this sort of thing. It's going to be stopped, and you're going to see the world!"

"You're going to set me free?" gasped the incredulous girl.

"Free as a bird!" announced the ironic Legar. "And with as fine feathers as any bird that ever flew!"

"I'm to be free?" she repeated, still dazed.

"Sure! So get your things together, and do it quick. There's a taxi waiting downstairs. That taxi will carry you straight to my friend Casavanti. Casavanti is always kind to women, amazingly kind."

He stood, ferret-eyed and impassive, watching the girl as she feverishly gathered together her meager belongings. He hurried her out of the room, then along the passage and down the narrow stairway and out to the street where the taxi waited.

There McTigue sat ready for her. That worthy remained silent, however, as a sob or two shook the girl's body and a light of exultation shone from her timorous eyes. She too remained silent as they threaded their way through the darkened streets and drew up before a brown-stone house.

Up to the door of this house McTigue led the still wondering young woman. There his finger played cryptically on the electric push bell, sounding Casavanti's pass signal, and a moment later the door mysteriously opened and the girl found herself alone. Even before the door could close behind her a silent-running limousine swung up to the curb and a hurrying figure stepped from its runningboard. But before that figure could mount the steps and reach the house entrance the heavy door had swung shut again. And the wide-eyed girl, following a footman in service uniform, mounted the stairs to Casavanti's private room.

Casavanti, as he looked up and saw her, let the cigarette fall from his thin-tipped mouth.

"The Doc was dead right," he said under his breath. "She's a flower, all right!"

Then, still watching the girl, he said aloud: "Are you afraid of me?"

"No," was her answer.

"Then come here," he commanded. But she still stood gazing wonderingly about the room. A suspicion that all was not as it should be had crept over her.

"Why was I sent here?" she demanded, as Casavanti, white faced, stepped closer to her.

"For this," he replied, as with a sudden movement his arms went out and encompassed her shrinking body. She fought and struggled in that contaminating embrace, but her strength was not equal to her captor's. Casavanti, bending her body close to his, cupped his impassioned lips over her parted lips. It was several seconds before he lifted his head.

Before he did so, however, the closet door on his right opened and a figure stepped noiselessly out into the room. It was the figure of a man who wore a laughing mask.

"One word, you hound, and it's your last!" said the quiet-toned voice behind the mask. But the revolver remained pointing at Casavanti's head as the stranger took the girl's hand and backed slowly towards the hall door. He groped for the door handle, leveled his weapon and still watched Casavanti. But the door, he discovered, was locked. Perplexed, for one short second he turned and looked for the key. But in that instant the tense-limbed Casavanti, beholding the revolver barrel waver from its target, saw his chance and leaped for his enemy.

The force of that impact sent the mysterious intruder staggering against the wall and the revolver itself clattering across the floor. The girl screamed in terror as the two contending figures fought and writhed about the room. Hurrying steps and voices were already sounding from outside the locked door, and Casavanti, knowing the slowness of his chances, was battling like a wildcat. But the man in the mask, with an odd and quite unexpected movement of the body, brought into play that familiar jiu-jitsu trick of catapulting an adversary over his own shoulder, depending on the force of the fall alone for any final result. And the fall in this case was not a gentle one.

Seeing that Casavanti did not move where he lay, the stranger took the doorway from the stunned cadet's pocket and called out for the girl to follow him.

A moment later they entered the limousine and drove quickly away.

"I guess that's one on Legar!" murmured the still breathless man in the mask.

"Who are you?" demanded the young woman.

"I'm only a hammer," was the suddenly sobered reply. "The Hammer of God."

SYNOPSIS.

On Windward Island Palidori intrigues Mrs. Golden into an appearance of evil which causes Golden to capture and torture the Italian by branding his face and crushing his hands. Palidori opens the dyke gates and floods the island and the general rush to escape the flood kidnaps Golden's six-year-old daughter Margory. Twelve years later in New York one calling himself "The Hammer of God" rescues an eighteen-year-old girl from the cadet Casavanti, to whom Jules Legar had delivered her.

SECOND EPISODE

The House of Unhappiness.
Enoch Golden, with all his millions, was a hard man. Those closest to him contended that he had experienced much to make him hard.

The one person who stood in any way intimately and personally connected with Golden was his young private secretary, David Manley. For young Manley, often enough known to his associates as "Dave," was both incorrigibly youthful and engagingly irresponsible. Golden, oddly enough, secretly liked this youth for his foolishness.

Golden smiled a little as he stepped into his massively furnished library and found young Manley curled up in one of the great leather chairs intently working over a pocket camera and quite oblivious of the telephone bell shrilling from the rosewood desk beside him. Golden, as he seated himself at this desk and curiously answered the phone call, blinked with mock disapproval at the youth bent over the camera.

It was not until he heard Golden's great fist smite the rosewood desktop that Manley looked up. The man of millions was frowning over the letter still in his hand.

"The condition of these tenements is shameful. Times are hard, and many, we find, are out of work. If you insist on raising the rents, as you threaten, our settlement workers claim that hundreds of the poor will have to leave their homes. So, for the sake of the mothers and children alone, I implore you to reconsider your earlier decision."

"Sincerely,
"AMOS SCHOFIELD, D. D."
"The fools!" said Golden aloud. "They know as much about business, Manley, as you know about bond issues! Not raise my own rents! I guess Enoch Golden still knows enough to run his own business!"

He stopped and looked at Manley. "What's that gim-crack you're wasting your time on?" he demanded.

"Gim-crack?" laughed Manley. "It's the neatest thing in cameras that ever came into America. That's a new Swiss telescopic lens I've just been ad justing to it. Take a snap of a flea biting your ear eighty paces away! And your income on those tenements, by the way, amounts to an annual return of just 43 per cent of the capital invested!"

But Golden's patience was exhausted. "Get out of here!" was his brusque command. "Get down to Griswold's bank with these checks, and be quick about it!"

Whereupon Manley meekly took his departure. Two minutes later, however, yet another figure was passing through the gloomy silences of Enoch Golden's home. It was a more purposeful figure than that of the lazy-eyed young secretary. And over the face of this intruder as he cautiously made his way through the great house was an odd-looking band of yellow cloth, cut in the form of a mask. The center of this, drooping apronlike almost to his upper lip, was marked by an inverted crescent, which at first glance lent to the partly-covered face the faint suggestion of an ironically laughing mouth. Yet the unknown stranger was serious enough as he stopped before a door at the end of the second hall and pushed on one of a row of mother-of-pearl buttons. The door slid noiselessly back at that signal, and an electric elevator rose automatically to the level of the floor where he stood. Inside the elevator, he touched still another button, whereupon the cage rose noiselessly. Once it had come to a stop, he leaned against the apparently blank wall of the elevator shaft and studied it closely.

Intently Working Over a Pocket Camera.

His exploring plainly found there a secret spring, for the next moment a panel slipped noiselessly to one side and he stepped into the room so carefully fireproofed with pressed steel panels and grained to look like oak, which Golden had once used as his bedroom.

That room, although not used for years, was at the present moment far from empty. For pacing restlessly back and forth, as the stranger quietly entered, was a golden-haired woman of little more than twenty. The face under the mask smiled a little at her sudden movement and gasp of surprise as he confronted her.

"Are you still afraid of me?" he asked.

"No!" hesitated the girl.

"I'd give a good deal," declared the other, "to know who you are!"

"I'm—I'm afraid I can't help you any, in that," she finally told him.

"Why not?"

"Because I don't know myself." "I want to take you to a man who may be interested in you, who may even prove to be very kind to you!" The pale face with the haunted eyes suddenly hardened.

"I no longer ask for kindness from men," was her almost passionate retort.

"Oh, this old scoundrel won't be too dangerously kind, especially until the ice is broken. I warrant you that much. But with him, I'll also warrant, you'll face none of the affronts that you may have faced in the Owl's Nest."

"But why should he be interested in me?"

"Because you may remind him of a daughter he himself once had."

"Then what must I do?"

"You must put on a dress I have ready, one exactly like the one his own daughter used to wear. And I'd like you to let down your hair."

So the girl, still touched with wonder, was cautiously led to another part of the great house, where she let down her hair and dressed herself in a girl's little frock which she found already laid out for her. And the wonder was still in her eyes as the masked stranger smuggled her quietly down through the house, and as the aged millionaire bent low to unlock the bottom drawer of his desk, motioned her noiselessly into the library and into an armchair facing the desk.

By the time Golden had raised his head again the mysterious stranger had slipped out of sight.

Golden, as he sat upright, stared for several moments of silence at the strange figure in the armchair.

"Who are you?" the grim-faced old financier finally demanded. But the girl remained silent.

Golden, studying her more closely, rose unsteadily to his feet.

"How did you get here?" he asked.

And passing a hand across his moistened brow he asked still again: "Who are you?"

"I don't know," answered the girl. Golden rose to his feet, and still staring hungrily at that mild yet clouded face, crossed to her side.

He held her face between his hands, peering into it. Then, with a weary shake of the head, he dropped his hands.

"It was too much to expect," he huskily murmured. "Too much to hope for!"

His grief-stricken face touched the girl's heart.

"Oh, sir, what had you hoped for?" she managed to ask.

"I hope for nothing," was the broken man's reply. "But once I had a daughter, and I lost her."

"How did you lose her?"

"She was stolen from me, as a child."

"And what became of her?"

"God only knows! Yet, for a moment I was mad enough to think, to hope. But I have no longer any right to hope, he added with sudden passion. "All I ask is that once before I die I meet face to face that one-armed devil with his scar of shame!"

"One-armed, and with a scar?" cried the startled girl, leaning suddenly forward in her chair.

Golden wheeled about at her cry.

"What does that mean to you?"

"Why, it was a one-armed man with a scarred face who kept me a prisoner! It was he, Legar, who always told me my parents were dead."

"Legar!" repeated the bewildered millionaire. "Legar? But my man's name was Palidori!"

"Girl, let me see your arm!"

With trembling fingers he thrust up the flimsy sleeve, staring breathlessly at the milk-white skin. Then a groan of disappointment broke from his throat.

"No the mark is not there!"

"What mark?" asked the wondering girl.

"My daughter carried a scar on her right arm. My men, when she was a child on Windward island, caught and killed a shark. The child, when no one watched her, thrust a hand in between the brute's jaws. Those dying jaws closed on the flesh, and an iron bar had to be used to open them again. And they said that scar would always stay with her."

The girl, wide-eyed, dropped back into the armchair.

"Why, I seem to remember," she said, staring before her. "I seem to remember years ago, rows and rows of sharp teeth and the sudden pain as those teeth came together."

"But the scar!" cried Golden.

"There is no scar!"

"I seem to remember about that, too. It was long ago, after Legar had brought me across water, and then miles and miles in a railway train. I remember him taking me to a man who wore round eyeglasses, and showing him my arm. This man gave me something to make me sleep. But when I awakened my arm was sore again, for weeks and weeks. And when it healed the scar was gone. I remember—"

But she stopped suddenly, for the telephone bell close beside Golden shrilled out a sudden call. Mechanically the man at the desk took up the receiver, his eyes still on the girl facing him.

"This is Eastman of the central office speaking," said the voice over the wire. "A short while ago a young woman was seen entering your house."

"Well, what of it?" was the impatient inquiry.

"Our office merely wants to warn you that the girl is Blondie Casey, the come-on for the Cookson gang. She's the smoothest swindler in the business. And as long as that baby-eyed she-crook is in your house, Golden, your house will be in danger!"

Golden hung up his receiver and sat studying his desk. Then with his grim mouth fixed he crossed to the rear door and opened it, stepping out into the hall and peremptorily called for his butler as he did so.

Manley, returning from his errand, at the same moment stepped into the room from another door. He stared at the girl as she stopped to pick up his pocket camera.

"Who are you?" he pertly inquired, as Golden re-entered the room.

But his eyes, the next moment, were on neither Golden nor the girl. His gaze passed beyond those two strangely diverse figures to yet a third, the crouching figure of an eavesdropper clinging to the wistaria vines that framed the huge window on the far side of the room.

Manley, crossing the room on the run, took the window, glass and all, in one leap. He landed on a hydrangea bush even as the burly eavesdropper dropped to the grass beside him. The next moment the two men clinched.

The fight was an uneven one, but Manley stuck to his man. He stuck to him until that worthy, with a sudden blow on the jaw, sent the lithe-bodied young secretary staggering to the ground.

Before Manley could recover himself, the mysterious eavesdropper broke away, vaulted to the street and signaled to a waiting automobile.

Then Manley's senses came back to him, and rolling over into the open roadway, he took the camera from his pocket and held it between him and the disappearing touring car. He pressed the spring, knowing that his telescopic lens would carry to the waiting film the secret of that mysterious car's license number.

Make the Best Remedy at Home—128 Teaspoonfuls for 50 cents.

If everything was sold in as liberal and fair a manner as the below named druggists are selling Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectant, absolutely no cause for complaint or dissatisfaction should possibly arise from anyone. These druggists say—"Buy a bottle of this remedy and try it for Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Severe Cough, Croup or any Bronchial Affection, and we will return your money, just the same as we do with Schiffmann's famous Asthmador, if it does not give satisfaction, or if not found the best remedy ever used for any of these complaints." Why not take advantage of this guarantee and try this medicine, and get your money back, rather than buying another purely on the exaggerated claims of its manufacturer or on the strength of testimonials from others and run the chance of getting something worthless and also wasting your money?

In buying this remedy, besides securing an absolute guarantee of its efficiency from these druggists, you also get about eight times as much medicine as you would in buying most any of the old-fashioned, ready-made kinds, which average from 20 to 32 teaspoonfuls, because 50c worth makes a whole pint (128 teaspoonfuls) when mixed at home with simply one pint of sugar and one-half pint of water. This remedy positively does not contain chloroform, opium, morphine or any other narcotic. It is pleasant to take and children are fond of it. You will be the sole judge, and under this positive guarantee absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy. Druggists everywhere are authorized to sell it under the same guarantee as Schiffmann's famous Asthmador of "Money Back" if not perfectly satisfactory. R. J. Schiffmann, Proprietor, Saint Paul, Minn. CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to extend our sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for their many expressions and evidences of sympathy in our recent bereavement, and also the physicians who labored so faithfully and unceasingly to save our beloved husband and father.—Mrs. Thomas J. Oaks and children.

Old Prescription For Weak Kidneys

A medicinal preparation like Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, that has real curative value almost sells itself. Like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefitted to those who are in need of it.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is a physician's prescription. It has been tested for years and has brought results to countless numbers who have suffered.

The success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder diseases, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

Do not suffer. Get a bottle of Swamp-Root from any druggist now. Start treatment today.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send 10 cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention The Interior Journal, Stanford. 17-18-19-20

Ottenheim

Mr. Charles Bangloff and Mrs. Katherine Osterman, were Tuesday joined hand and heart at the Catholic church. They are receiving many congratulations.

Mr. Anthony Miner sold a fine 2-year-old mule Tuesday.

Mr. Paul Ennsin enjoyed a ride last Sunday afternoon with his leap year bride.

Mr. Schmitz and son went out horse trading last week. They purchased a mule.

Mr. Ernest Iverson and wife enjoyed a ride down St. Sylvester street Sunday morning. He promised the Ottenheim boys a treat. Wonder when it will be.

Squeezing Blood Out of a Turnip

A Lot of People Apparently Think It Can Be Done.

"You can't squeeze blood out of a turnip." This is absolutely true, but a lot of people evidently don't believe it.

You can't expect nervous, run down men and women to be cheery, normal beings. They don't get one-half out of life that they deserve. But a lot of people expect it of them.

In every community there are a legion of these men and women. Not really sick, perhaps, but affected with a nervous debilitated condition so that they imagine countless things are wrong with them. They have frequent headaches, are sluggish in mind and in body and they haven't enough real energy to make them self-reliant in even the little things of life. They haven't enough rich, red blood to nourish their bodies.

Their vital organs are congested.

They need something to speed up their assimilation to a normal state, something to bring back old vitality, self-reliance and a cheery view of life.

They need something that contains the right nerve food, tonic, invigorator and appetizer which will awake their sleeping energies.

Tanlac is designed especially to meet these conditions. For the relief of stomach, kidney and liver ailments and catarrhal affections of the mucous membranes it is believed to be without an equal. It fortifies one to better encounter fatigue, exposure and the daily grind of life.

Tanlac has won the greatest success ever scored by a medicine. It could not have done so without superlative merit. As the proof of the pudding is in the eating, so is the proof of Tanlac in the taking.

Tanlac now may be obtained in Stanford at G. L. Penny's, and Middleburg at W. C. Bryant's, where it is being personally introduced and explained.

ATTENTION!

DRUGGISTS—STORE-KEEPERS

An exclusive Tanlac agent is wanted in every town, village and cross road in this county. For particulars and advertising plans address Cooper Medicine Company, Dayton, Ohio.

A UNIQUE RECORD

Very Few Like It In Our Broad Republic.

Grateful testimony for Doan's Kidney Pills, published everywhere is of itself convincing evidence of merit. Confirmed testimony forms still stronger evidence. Years ago, a citizen of this locality gratefully acknowledged the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills. The statement is now confirmed—the proof more convincing. Cases of this kind are plentiful in the work of Doan's Kidney Pills—the record is unique.

John T. Barnett, carpenter, Rowland, Ky., says: "I have used many kidney medicines in the past few years, but Doan's Kidney Pills was the only one that gave me relief. My work calls for heavy lifting and much stooping. This weakened my kidneys and caused attacks of lumbago and a severe ache across the small of my back. I also had other annoyances, caused by weak kidneys. Doan's Kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills brought prompt relief."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER. Mr. Barnett said: "I have had no return of kidney complaint since I used Doan's Kidney Pills and I look upon the benefit as permanent."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Barnett had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. 18-1

March 6.—The Mothers' Club will meet with Mrs. J. C. Bailey Monday March 6 at 2 o'clock P. M.

Mrs. Lucivia Martin has returned from a visit to relatives at Perryville. Miss Louise Thomas, of Frankfort, is the guest of Mrs. S. J. Embury, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Welburn were in Danville Wednesday.

WOMAN HAD NERVOUS TROUBLE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

West Danby, N. Y.—"I have had nervous trouble all my life until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nerves and for female troubles and it straightened me out in good shape. I work nearly all the time, as we live on a farm and I do all my sewing and other work with their help, so it shows that I stand it real well. I took the Compound when my ten year old daughter came and it helped me a lot. I have also had my oldest girl take it and it did her lots of good. I keep it in the house all the time and recommend it."—Mrs. DEWITT SINCEBAUGH, West Danby, N. Y.

Sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, backache, headaches, dragging sensations, all point to female derangements which may be overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Mabel Gum, of Lexington, is the guest of Miss Lucinda Lutes.

J. W. Rout, Jr., is on the sick list this week.

M. B. Salin was down from Middleboro Thursday evening.

"Corns All Gone! Let's ALL Kick!"

Every Corn Vanishes by Using Wonderful, Simple "Gets-It." Never Fails. Applied in 2 Seconds.

Isn't it wonderful what a difference just a little "Gets-It" makes,—on corns and calluses? It's always right somewhere in the world, with many folks humped up, with cork-screwed faces, gouging, picking, drilling out their corns, making packages of their toes with plasters, bandages, tape and contraptions,—and the "holer" in their corns goes on forever! Don't you do it. Use "Gets-It." It's marvelous, simple, never fails. Apply it in 2 seconds. Nothing to stick to the stocking, hurt or irritate the toe. Pain stops. Corn comes "clean off," quick. It's one of the gems of the world. Try it—you'll kick—from joy. For corns, calluses, warts, bunions, "Gets-It" is sold everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Stanford and recommended as the world's best corn remedy, by the Lincoln Pharmacy.

Heard About Town

Dr. R. L. Davison, J. W. Williams and Dr. D. B. Southard attended the Republican convention at Louisville this week.

J. C. Lynn received a fine female Scotch Collie from Gifford of Olathe, Kas., by express Thursday.

National Bank Examiner John B. Chenault, is in Stanford, going over the books of the two local financial institutions, which he will undoubtedly find in good shape, for there are no stronger banks anywhere than the two in Stanford.

Harry Jacobs, the monument man, sold Mrs. C. W. Spangler, of Crab Orchard, a large French Greek granite monument to be a duplicate of the James E. Gooch monument in Gesheh cemetery. This monument is to be placed on the family lot in Crab Orchard cemetery.

Crab Orchard's splendid water is to be exploited by a new company which has been organized at the capital of the East End with Sam J. Tatem as president and a good advertisement is to be found in another column today telling about the good qualities of this celebrated health restorer. The new company will be known as the Mineral Water Sales Company and some real live boosting will be done. There is no better medicinal water in the world than that at Crab Orchard and the new company which will market it intends to let the people know about it in the only proven successful way—through judicious and persistent advertising.

Attorney Herbert Reynolds, who who recently granted license by Judge Bethurum, will hang out his shingle in Stanford and has arranged to office with Attorney George D. Florence, who has one of the largest practices at the local bar.

The I. J. regrets very much that half a dozen or so of its best country letters were crowded out this issue by a heavy run of advertising. All will be printed next week however.

Complaint having been made of violations of the ordinance against skating on the sidewalks on Logan avenue, parties offending are hereby notified that said ordinance will be rigidly enforced and are warned to govern themselves accordingly. By order of the City Council. A. B. Florence, Mayor. 13-2

Regular services at the Baptist church Sunday. Preaching morning and evening by the pastor.

Rev. W. D. Welburn, pastor of the Methodist church, will preach at Neal's Creek Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The regular services will be held at the Methodist church Sunday morning and evening.

The C. E. District Convention will meet with the C. E. Societies of the Stanford Christian and Presbyterian churches March 24-25-26. It will close with a Missionary Pageant under the supervision of Misses Esther Burch and Elizabeth Higgins.

On a little island off the Carolinas—a ruined home—broken hearts—vows of vengeance—a lost child—treasure trove and an ocean flood attend as "The Iron Claw," our new motion picture serial story comes into being.

While you read, twelve eventful years roll swiftly by and "The Iron Claw" leads you into haunts unspeakable where the master minds of vice and crime conspire. Then enters The Laughing Mask acting the role of "The Hammer of God!"

And—but read it for yourself. The first story of the series will appear in this paper soon.

In "The Iron Claw," Stringer turns all accepted notions of writing upside down and creates situations that make thrills alternate with fever heat and icy chills in the minds of his readers.

You will enjoy every installment thoroughly! Read it!

Then see the films at the motion picture theater!

Puff your way into the joys of Prince Albert!

Go ahead, quick as you lay in a stock of the national joy smoke! Fire up a pipe or a makin's cigarette as though you never did know what tobacco bite and parch meant!

For Prince Albert is freed from bite and parch by a patented process controlled exclusively by us. You can smoke it without a comeback of any kind because P. A. is real tobacco delight.

PRINCE ALBERT

will do for you what it has done for thousands of men, not only in the States but all over the world! It will give you a correct idea of what a pipe smoke or a home-rolled cigarette should be.

Get this Prince Albert pipe-peace and makin's-peace message, you men who have "retired" from pipe and cigarette-makin's pleasure; you men who have never known its solace! Because you have a lot of smoke pleasure due you quick as you pack-your-pipe or roll-a-cigarette with P. A. and make fire!

Buy Prince Albert everywhere tobacco is sold: in tins, in bags, 5c, 10c, 15c, 25c, 50c, 1 lb. and 5 lb. tins. In that clear round crystal glass holder with smoke-moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such fine shape.

Polly Ann.

Mrs. Wilson Estes, who has been confined to her bed for some time doesn't seem to show much improvement.

Miss Sara Trowbridge, who has been quite ill for several days, is somewhat better at this writing.

Aunt Ann Floyd is visiting her relative, Mr. Samuel Trowbridge and family.

Miss Ella Newsom, who has been visiting relatives at Pike, has returned home after a long stay.

Mrs. Susan Floyd, Miss Maud Funnish and Uncle Charlie Francis, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Newsom Sunday.

On the reverse side of this tin you will find "Process Patented July 25th, 1907," which has made three men smoke pipes where one smoked before!

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Hustontville

Clarence Dunn and bride were here the last of the week with their parents, on a visit and returned to Stanford on Monday.

Willie Dock Drye was up to see his mother Sunday and eat dinner with her.

The petitioners for the road bond issue are anxiously awaiting for a petition to be started in the West End so they can sign same and have it ready to be presented on county court day, March 12th.

J. P. Riffe has engaged his spring lambs to Myers & Co., at 10 cents for June delivery.

Miss Florence Spragens and Mrs. John Reyniersen were here last week on their way to Moreland, where Mrs. Reyniersen was to take train for Danville for a visit to her sons.

Mrs. Uriah Dunn rented part of her house and garden and five acres of land to go in corn for the remainder of the year to a Mr. Cooper, of Harriman, Tenn.

P. W. Green returned to Lexington Thursday after a short visit to W. W. Wright and family, out on the Liberty pike.

Dock Drye was here last week on business.

L. M. Reid and family, of Parkersville, spent last week here with relatives.

Powell & Depp sold a work mule last week for $110.

C. C. Carpenter sold a fancy pair of bay work mules, coming 5-year-olds to J. L. Harrison, of Newport, Tenn., for $450. They weighed 2,300 pounds.

Dink Jarman sold a 5-year-old Dignity Dare gelding to J. L. Harrison, for $125.

A. W. Carpenter, of the McCormack Church neighborhood, was here Saturday on business.

Roy Spears of Center Hill Heights was here Saturday on business.

Mrs. J. R. Rout, of Junction City was here Saturday to see her husband, who has recently opened up a grocery and hardware store.

The poultry business is getting to be quite lively here in the last few days. Why couldn't we have had a produce establishment here sooner, as they have lived things up considerably?

Samuel Routenburg has a fancy fox terrier pup which he is very fond of at present and nothing could please him better.

C. C. Carpenter had a very fine 800-pound steer butchered last Friday for his personal use. Calvin always arranges to have an extra beef every winter to butcher.

W. R. Williams has been quite feeble for several days with a little improvement shown in the last few days.

Henry McKinney, one of the leading merchants of High Bluff, was here Saturday on important business. Squire J. K. Helm, of Richland, was in town Saturday evening and said he was never as cold, he doesn't think, in all his life, as he was when he arrived here.

The new ice and produce company did a good business here last Saturday.

Coffey, of Bowen station, is furnishing the lumber for the new building of Varney Tanner here.

Mr. V. B. Morse is fast completing his store room in the Ark and will be ready to receive his goods in a few days.

Mrs. A. H. Baugh and son, returned home last Wednesday from a pleasant visit of two weeks to relatives in Wayne county.

H. C. Brown, of the Harrodsburg Ice and Produce Co., had quite a severe attack of tooth-ache last week. Born, to the wife of Bright Herrin out on the Stanford pike, on the 27th a bouncing baby boy.

Dr. Hatfield is now on duty at his dental office, ready to ease the pains of any one.

W. D. Stagg, Jr., bought of A. W. Carpenter, a fine yellow Jersey cow this week, for $60.

Ed Buchanan sold McCormack & Co., two fat hogs, weight 465 pounds at 7 1-2 cents.

McCormack & Co., bought of Stanhigh, of Chelf's Ridge 8 hogs, average weight, 145 pounds, at 6 1-2 cents.

Rodger Hicks made his first trip alone Tuesday. His commission began the first of March. Mrs. W. P. Carson will assist him for a few days.

Miss Kate Bogle resumed her duties as teacher in the graded school Monday, and the little tots are most ticked to death.

Dr. Bohon and son, Hudson, of Kidd's Store, motored here Monday on their way to Danville. They returned Tuesday.

W. D. Stagg, Jr., sold to James Yowell a 1,020-pound fat cow for $58.

Mrs. S. D. Yowell and daughter, of Danville, were visitors to relatives and friends here, from Monday to Wednesday.

Dr. Thomas Bohon, of Kidd's Store, was a visitor here for a couple of days to his daughters, Mrs. J. C. Riffe and Mrs. George Tucker.

E. R. Powell, of Powell's Branch, was here Wednesday on business.

Mr. Collier, who had his house burned last week on the Tucker place, adjoining J. W. Powell's, is here looking after his interests.

B. W. Leigh has made quite an improvement in the looks of his fair-grounds arm recently, by removing all the cross-fencing, with the exception of that around a 6-acre tobacco field. What Barney expects to do next, is not yet known.

Quite a number from here were called to Stanford Monday before the grand jury.

The price paid on the produce market here Monday and Tuesday, was as follows: Hens, 14c; roosters, 7c; eggs, 18 1-2c; green hides 14c. Large quantities of fish are reported to have been caught at Lock No. 21, on the Cumberland, on Feb. 21 to 26.

Petitions are now out in all of the voting precincts of the county for a call for an election on the road bond issue, which will be presented to the county court on March 13. Said election will be held in not less than 60 days from date of filing of petition.

Uriah Dunn attended county court at Lancaster last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Miller, out on the Middleburg pike, were visitors Monday at Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore Burton's.

Ground was broken Monday for the foundation for the Tanner building, near the corner of Main and Liberty streets.

T. L. Carpenter went to Newcastle, Ind., last Friday on important business, and while there will gather all necessary information he can in regard to the new clock factory he will start here in the near future.

E. H. Kidd and C. C. Combost, of Casey county, who attended the republican convention at Stanford, were here overnight, on account of being left in Stanford, by their chauffeur. They hired another rig and left Thursday morning for Liberty.

C. W. Adams and John B. Riffe arrived home Saturday from a fishing trip on the Cumberland at Lock 21. They had fine success and were well pleased with their catch. Mr. Adams let three nicks ones get away from, which he had strung on a cord and placed in the river over night. The cord is said to have worn in two by rubbing over the rocks. The weights of those that got away were 5, 8 1-2 and 11 1-2 pounds, all yellow salmon. Mr. Riffe brought back an extra fine one of the same variety that weighed 12 1-2 pounds, and made several meals for himself and his friends.

What J. S. Mobley & Son of McKinney have to say about cream separators this week.

Ninety-eight per cent of the world's creameries use De Laval exclusively.

CREAMERYMEN have better opportunities than other separator users to see which separators are most efficient and durable. That is why they select De Laval.

More De Laval are in use on farms than all other makes combined. Time and experience have proved to a vast majority of farmers that no other separator gives as good service as the De Laval.

Each year in the United States and Canada alone, some 40,000 farmers discard inferior separators and replace them with De Laval. They learn from experience that the so-called cheap separators are wasteful and costly at any price. They would have saved money if they had bought a De Laval in the first place.

If you will bear these facts in mind in selecting a separator, you will realize that the wisest course is to buy a De Laval. We will be glad to bring a De Laval out to your farm and let you try it out and see for yourself that it does offer you the greatest value for your money. We are willing to prove every claim we make for the De Laval. Just phone us or send a post card and we will see that you get an opportunity to try a De Laval.

Sooner or later you will buy a DE LAVAL

Sloan's Liniment

Read this unsolicited grateful testimony—

Not long ago my left knee became lame and sore. It pained me many restless nights. So serious did it become that I was forced to consider giving up my work when I chanced to think of Sloan's Liniment. Let me say—less than one bottle fixed me up.

Give your Child

Dr. King's New Discovery

for Coughs and Colds.

Dr. King's New Discovery is a Doctor's Prescription used for over 45 years. It is pleasant and children like it.

You cannot use anything better for your child's cough and cold than Dr. King's New Discovery. It is prepared from Pine Tar mixed with healing and soothing balsams. It does not contain anything harmful and is slightly laxative, just enough to expel the poisons from the system. Dr. King's New Discovery is antiseptic—kills the cold germs—raises the phlegm—loosens the cough and soothes the irritation.

"I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for the past three years and use it continually in my family. My children are very fond of it for it keeps them free from cold. I can't say too much for it, and take pleasure in recommending it to my friends." Mrs. A. S. Haines, Franconia, N.H.

Don't put off treatment. Coughs and colds often lead to a chronic cough, pneumonia and other serious lung troubles. It is also good for adults and the aged. Get a bottle to-day. All druggists.

In the National Egg Laying Contest closed Nov. 1st, 1915, with 79 pens and 26 varieties competing, there were only two pens of Rhode Island Whites, one of these winning second place for the entire year and the other one, won sixth place.

The winner being a pen of English White Leghorns that had been line bred for years for eggs. Thus the Rhode Island Whites prove all that is claimed for them in the way of eggs.

FIFTY ADDED TO CHURCH.

In Meeting Conducted by Revs. Dotson and Coakley at Waynesburg.

Waynesburg, Feb. 29.

The series of meetings conducted by Evangelist J. L. Dotson closed on February 22, 1916. There were 50 additions to the church—38 by experience and baptism, 11 by letter and one by restoration. God is greatly using this man of God. A great many of our churches need just such a man for a revival. He has won the hearts of our people, but best of all, he wins souls for God. God never lets him fail to have a good meeting. He is winning a place among the best evangelists of our denomination. The church and community are greatly stirred as a result of his work here.

Rev. E. W. Coakley has been called as pastor of three churches—Waynesburg, Eubank and Pilate for all his time. He has moved to this field and is expecting a great work. Unless the three churches co-operate and keep him in this work, we will not be able to keep him. He is a man of God and greatly desires to see souls saved. He has already won a warm place in the hearts of his people here. He was here during the meeting and greatly helped Bro. Dotson in the work by his special songs, prayers and personal work. May God bless his work in this new field.

Rev. E. W. Coakley performed the baptismal service at the baptistry at H. H. Singleton's mill, Feb. 22, at 10 a. m. A large crowd attended the service.

Mr. H. L. Dumas was up from Somerset on business Tuesday.

Mrs. E. L. Gadberry and little sons are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kincaid at Cecilia.

Mr. Oliver Singleton left Sunday Feb. 21, for Bowling Green, where he will enter school.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Reynolds and little daughter, Lucy, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Reynolds attended the meeting last Thursday and were the guests of their uncle, Mr. D. W. Caldwell.

Mrs. W. M. Jackson and three little sons of Fitzpatrick, W. Va., are visiting her brothers at this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Wheelon visited Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Estes at Albion Sunday.

Mrs. Talitha Scrivener, of Missouri, recently visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Ball, her sisters, Mesdames J. M. Reynolds and F. O. Gooch here and other relatives at Stanford and Bowen.

Miss Mattie Bowen and brother, of Bowen, are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Ball.

Misses Laura Johnson and Ada Murphy, of Kings Mountain attended the meeting and visited friends here last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Barbee Wheeler went to Danville Tuesday.

Little Ora Dumas has been sick, but is better at this writing.

Messrs. Roland Singleton and Hollis Reynolds, were in Stanford Sunday.

Make Tomorrow a Better Day.

This wholesome physic acts without pain or nausea. Sold everywhere.

Notice to Contractors.

Sealed proposals addressed to the Fiscal Court of Lincoln county, will be received up to 12 o'clock, noon Friday, March 10th, 1916, when they will be publicly opened and read, for the improvement of the following named roads in Lincoln county:

The Stanford-Danville road of about five miles to be reconstructed.

The Stanford-Crab Orchard road of about eight miles to be reconstructed.

Stanford-Somerset road to be graded, new work, about four miles.

The concrete bridge and culvert work on the three above named roads.

And corrugated metal culvert pipe for same roads.

Plans and specifications for roads may be seen and examined at the County Clerk's office.

Bids must be for work to be done in accordance with the plans and specifications approved by the Fiscal Court and Commissioner of Public Roads.

The Fiscal Court of Lincoln county expressly reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Before contracts are binding on first parties, they must receive the approval of the Commissioner of Public Roads. Each bid shall be accompanied by cash or a certified check, payable at sight to order of the County Treasurer for 10 per cent of amount of proposal; which check shall be held until the execution of the contract.

Before the contract is awarded, the successful bidder or bidders will be required to furnish a bond in amount equal to amount of the contract for the faithful performance of the work in accordance with the plans and specifications.

All work to be done under the supervision of the Commissioner of Public Roads.

By order of Fiscal Court of Lincoln county.

J. L. McKee Riffe, County Road Engineer.

Here's A 'Tip' On Rheumatism Follow It

AN ACCURATE DESCRIPTION

When your arm or your leg feels "all knotted" with rheumatism, when you feel as though your muscles were "tied up with a rope," you are really describing your pains accurately. Rheumatism is a condition of the body when acids and other deposits of impurities are actually "clogging up" the strands of muscles in your body, straining the nerves and thus producing the awful shooting pains of sciatica, lumbago, etc. Medical authorities agree that these acid deposits are carried and deposited by the blood in the various parts of the body. It stands to reason, therefore, that local applications such as rubbing with so-called remedies can't do any permanent good. At best they can relieve the pain a little and only for a little while. The only way to effect a real cure is to attack the real cause—the blood. It is cleansed from the troublesome deposits by S. S. S., the reliable blood purifier that is now easing the pains and healing the ills of the third generation. S. S. S. "goes after" the impurities in the blood as relentlessly, as eagerly and as thoroughly as a ferret goes after rats; pursuing the poison into every vein and artery, into every nook and corner of the body, and chasing the troublesome substances out of the system. The blood thus cleansed, carries the acid and other injurious deposits and "filters" them out of the body through the kidneys. S. S. S. is not a drug. It is a purely vegetable blood purifier. You can get S. S. S. at every drug store. But if in addition you should like to have the advice of the doctors in charge of our laboratory, do not hesitate to write us. You will receive free, conscientious and confidential advice. This is in line with our policy to make every effort to insure the best results from S. S. S. to every sufferer. Get a bottle at your druggist's today. If you wish special advice, write to Medical Department, Room 45, Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

Kidd's Store

Turnip greens and jowl are ripe and the specific for mitigation of languor and lassitude premonitory of spring fever. The pall of smoke resultant from burning tobacco beds reminds of "London in November."

Miss Mary Ophelia Jeffers and Master Sammy Pemberton of Wright and Turpin suburbs were cheering visitors last Monday. Their chortling blended sweetly with riot of blue birds, robins and other harbingers of spring that have gotten back.

Harry Coyle and Josh Ashberry were conceded hopelessly doomed by grip, but defeated the monster and again are mingling with the fraternity of Groundhogs, good-as-new.

The community was grieved by news that Cheryl Will Gaddis died of pneumonia last week. Will came from his native Russell county among us nearly 30 years ago and was conceded one of the best experts in the spoke and stave industries, which have completely denuded our forests. The good man was too imprudent in his overestimate of vigor of his "borrowed-time."

Spring plowing is evidenced by the impatient expectives of plowmen in refreshing skill of their rusty teams.

Smith Powell had an impressive rebuke to his presumption that Father Time had failed to exact of him the pace set for his senile neighbors. Snatching a gun he chased a devastating hawk "over the hills and far away." When he tottered back to base his collapse alarmed the family with fear his moccasins were about sunned, and he had played over the limit to a cash-in. We rejoice that solicitous nursing and judicious stimulation pulled him out of the trench. Beware! Young man! The exuberance of old age is often a serious delusion and a snare.

Homer Lester has smashed precedent and defied Good Luck by declining to wait till Sunday to transfer his lares and penates.

One early bird of the town, whose abhorrence of hoe and garden work was still his benighted subjugation—about his greatest distinction, celebrated Washington's birthday, plowing garden, planting onions, and preparing for potatoes and peas. The chastening and reformatory, not to mention refining, results of uxorial guidance are often magical. Ye boobies, who sneer at suffragettes and "equality" (what an absurd application of the word) at the polls.

In censoring the mails and improving service, after abolishing the jobs, pure-and-simple created paramourly for the salaries, let attention be directed to those swindlers which lure the credulous into soliciting agencies to sell shoddy goods at fabulous profits to the advertisers.

A flimsy "premium" on which transportation amounts almost to the retail price of the article. The kids persist in annoying neighbors, who often buy in self-defense, and failing to sell all the stock credulous parents advance balance—oftenest a dead loss. A kid after sending his dozen dimes, besides cost of postage had to pay 27 cents to get his "premium."

BROWER'S GREAT Golden Anniversary Sale

Is now in full swing. An event of great importance to all home furnishers in Central Kentucky

A PERSONAL MESSAGE FROM OUR VICE-PRESIDENT

A year ago I determined to make this, the Fiftieth Anniversary of my father's active association with the Furniture and Carpet Business, the greatest value giving event this store has ever attempted and I laid my plans accordingly. Months ago, when the markets for 1916 goods first opened, our buyers went into the great factory and the wholesale centers and made their purchases for this sale. Almost without exception since that time the prices have advanced—these advances in some cases being as great as 30 per cent. But our contracts were all made before these advances and the merchandise is now ready for your inspection at prices that are based on the actual cost of the goods to us at time of purchase plus a very much smaller margin of profit than we regularly add. When I started with the intention of making this sale the greatest value-giving event ever attempted by this store I had no fore knowledge that market conditions later on would, as it were, conspire to help me but such is now the case. I firmly believe that it will be impossible for prospective home furnishers to again buy reputable merchandise at as low prices as we are now offering until long after the close of the great European War.—Harry S. Brower, Vice-Pres. and Mgr., C. F. Brower & Co.

A Gold Mine of Remarkable Values in Home Furnishings of Quality Worth Coming Miles to Get

We'll deliver your purchases—freight prepaid to any Railroad Station in Central Ky.

If it is not possible for you to come, you'll find it is an easy matter to order by mail.

Farm and Stock News

J. A. Spoonamore sold to B. G. Fox last week a mule for $135.

Nath Bogie bought the Joseph Onstott farm in Garrard at $80 an acre. Spoonamore & McKeehn bought a carload of sheep from Wayne county parties, averaging $6 per head.

J. H. Wright sold a couple of veal calves this week to T. W. Jones at 7 1-2c per pound.

J. T. Rigby, sold to J. M. Cress a team of three and four-year-old mules for $340. He bought of Joe Saylor 14 stock hogs at 6 1-2c; of B. W. Givens four stockers at 7c; of B. T. Lunsford a fat hog at 7c and of John Morgan one at 7c. Mr. Rigby sold to Frank Watson 21 stock shoats at 7 1-2c.

W. O. Walker, of this city, sold several horses to farmers of the Highland section the past week. To Craig Young he sold a four-year-old black gelding for $100; to John Will Carrier a four-year-old bay gelding for $100; to Oscar Fletcher a two-year-old horse for $100. To Jim Young he sold a Jersey cow for $45.

What

Ira T. Moser

of Milledgeville

has to say about cream separators this week.

When you use a De Laval Separator you not only get more cream, but better cream as well.

THE best evidence of this is that during the last twenty-five years butter made from De Laval separated cream has invariably scored the highest at all important contests and state fairs. Practically all the cream entered in the International Milk and Cream Show held in connection with the Panama-Pacific Exposition was separated by De Laval's, and every first prize, and most all the other prizes, were won by De Laval separated cream.

These facts are simply further proof of De Laval's supremacy in everything that goes to make a good cream separator.

Don't buy any separator until you give us an opportunity to let you see and try a De Laval. We will be glad to send one out to your farm on trial any time you say. Just phone, send a post card, or call and we will be glad to give you all the information you wish.

Sooner or later you will buy a DE LAVAL.

G. M. Henderson, of Upper Garrard, bought of Center Bros., a cow and calf for $50.

T. A. Brent is delivering his corn this week to J. H. Baughman & Co., at $4 a barrel.

T. W. Jones sold nine heifers to W. O. Walker this week at 6 1-2 cents a pound. They averaged about 560 pounds.

Hubble & Smith delivered to Jay Weil this morning the 69 head of fat steers which they contracted to him a few weeks ago. They averaged 1,172 when put on the scales.

Allen S. Edelen, of Mercer county had in 50 acres of hemp which is averaging 2,000 pounds. He sold it before it was planted at $8.50.

J. D. Whitehouse, of Danville, bought of T. W. Jones this week two fat heifers at $6.50 per hundred and 35 ewes at $8 per head.

B. G. Fox of Danville, sold 32 head of two-year-old mules at public auction last Monday at Monticello at an average of $145 a head.

H. C. Anderson sold 94 head of sheep to Frank Martin of the West End at $8.50 a head, this week, or a total of $799. In the bunch were three bucks and 91 ewes.

Hubble & Eubanks, sold from their Boyle county farm, to J. C. Johnstone, of Danville 75 head of hogs that averaged 165 pounds, at $8 a hundred.

W. O. Walker sold four hogs to T. W. Jones this week. Two, which averaged 620 pounds, were sold at a nickel a pound. The other two weighed 100 and 150 pounds, respectively, and were sold at 7 cents a pound.

T. W. Jones bought Tuesday morning from W. O. Walker 30 yearling steers that averaged about 475 pounds at 7 1-2 cents a pound.

W. H. Brown of Garrard bought of R. E. Hughes and John H. Miller 67 white-faced Herefords, two-year-olds at 7 1-4c. They averaged 725 pounds.

Lawson & Brown, the hustling live stock dealers of Lancaster, engaged yesterday from Garrard county farmers a lot of lambs at $7.50 to $8.00 per hundred. They also bought a car-load of hogs from various parties at 7 1-2c.

Robert E. Hughes, of Louisville, formerly of Garrard, has sold his entire herd of young Hereford steers to J. E. Robinson and W. H. Brown of Lancaster. They were purchased by Mr. Hughes last September in Missouri. They run uniformly in size and color and each shows the distinct feature and characteristic white face of the breed. There were about 70 head in the bunch and the average weight was 725 pounds. The price paid was $7.25 a hundred. The new owners will feed the young heaves and market them later in the season.

Notice to Contractors

Bids will be received at the County Clerk's office at Stanford, Ky., until twelve o'clock noon Friday, March 10th, 1916 for the metal for the various pikes described below. Bids must be sealed and plainly marked "TURNPIKE BID." Contracts will be let to the lowest responsible bidder, who shall furnish satisfactory security in amount of the contract. The Court reserves the right to reject any or all bids. Contractor shall state if stone is to be machine or hand broken. Stone must be of good quality, and of size that will pass thru a two-inch ring. Gravel must be coarse, hard and flinty, free from soil or trash. The one to whom the contract is awarded shall within ten days make bond for faithful performance of work in amount equal to amount of contract. Bond to be approved by County Judge. All work must be completed on or before October 15th, 1916. Contractors shall begin work when notified, and continue until completed. Working one day on the road when there is nothing to do elsewhere then off for a week will not be tolerated. All metal will be measured by Engineer, either in the heap or on the road. Let it be distinctly understood now that a County Engineer is expected to know how to measure stone and gravel, and he alone will attend to that part of the work. If a contractor is not satisfied with the measure, there is only one recourse, remeasure. No one may measure, only an experienced Engineer. Also, you may expect to forfeit your bond if the work is delayed until after October fifteenth. I propose to prosecute any one neglecting to have his contract in on time.

Fine Healthy Child Convincing Evidence

WM. J. RICHARDSON, Jr.

SIMPLE INEXPENSIVE REMEDY CHECKS EARLY TENDENCY TO CONSTIPATION

About the first thing impressed on the young Mother is the necessity for regularity in her baby, which brings up the question of the most desirable laxative for children's use.

Mrs. Jesse Richardson, Philpot, Ky., says she has used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for the past year and that there is no medicine in the world like it. She writes, "My little son, William, Jr., just loved it because it is so pleasant to take, and everybody talks about his being such a fine healthy boy."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of simple laxative herbs, free from any opiate or narcotic drug, and is the standard remedy for constipation in thousands of homes throughout the land. Drug Stores everywhere sell it for fifty cents a bottle. Get a bottle of this excellent remedy, and have it in the house. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.
